Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 05 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Rather cold, with sunshine and showers, and night frost.

This Evening and Tonight:
Showers, perhaps heavy with hail, tending to ease across many areas, although a few continuing especially round coasts. Elsewhere, clear spells allowing frost to develop once more, quite sharp in places. Northern areas of Scotland seeing rain and snow later.

Thursday:
Rain and hill snow for north Scotland sinking south and turning more showery: possible heavy but some sunny intervals. Further south, longer sunny spells and only scattered showers. Feeling chilly.

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Sunny spells and showers, heaviest and most frequent in the north. Rain, heavy in the west, spreading northeast over the weekend, followed by blustery showers. Turning a little warmer.
